SALE OF CITY STOCK.—We neglected to notice the sale of city stock by Meavrs. Lowndes & Grimball on Tuesday. Twelve hundred dollars of these securities were sold at 451.

The ROUND TABLE commenced its sixth volum on the 6th of July. It is now so well known, and has found such wide appreciation from all classes and conditions of the educated among the people that little may be said to induce any one who can afford it to subscribe to it. It is the only journa in the United States that we know of thoroughly independent in politics and literature, and all its of a high standard of excellence. It manded of local newsdealers, or from the offic articles of a high standard of excello

IMPORTANT TO TAX PAYERS .- We are requested to state that the State tax executions against pro-perty owners, which were advertised by the Sheriff some time since, and which were stopped by the Comptroller, have now been ordered to be en forced, and those persons who have heretofor os will cortainly take place unless they embrac the few days of grace remaining, and liquidat their indebtedness. Great leniency has been shown, but unless a settlement is speedily made the parties will be proceeded against. These exc s are from 1865, but the amount due on th ding Stat March, 1867, are now included id will be acted upon in the same manner. DILLON'S UNIVERSAL WROUGHT IRON TIE FO

Balino Corron, promises deservedly to take the precedence of all recent inventions for the economical packing of cotton. It is far superior to all similar expedients, inasmuch as its hoop pear evenly across its whole width, thus taking vantage of the whole strength of the iron, and as there are no thin edges or sharp corners in the tie to cut the hoops. Cut ties and perforated hoops require heavy iron to counterbalance the consequent loss of strength, as they are liable to break, cut, or toar out. With the "Universal Tie a hoop is turnished, which, when the band is com plete, weighs no more than the usual rope, thu avoiding an allowance of from two to three pounds (as is now the custom in New York) on each six banded bales, for excess of iron over average weight of repc. By ite use planters can avoid losses of cotton which result from broken bales and heavy bills for mending which result from im perfect ties and missing ropes. The inventor has had thirty-six years practical experience in mending, packing, baling, and compressing cotton, both in New York and at the South, and in the of a tie adapted to the wants of the plan tor and compresser alike, has invented this, which we predict will, by its economy and efficiency grow into general use. Mr. Wat. Rozen is the agent of this important invention in this city.

The interest shown by the colored people is the subject of education, has been so great that additional facilities bave, from time to time, been granted -them; but their thirst for knowledge seems uncontrollable. Under these circumstances it has been thought best to educate some of the more advanced scholars for teachers, and the American Missionary Association have furnished House. A site on the Western end of Bull street near the river, has been chosen, and contractors are invited to precent their estimates for the erec tion of the building. Through the kindness of the Assistant Quartermaster, Col. Jas. P. Low, we have been enabled to examine the proposed plan of the building.

The building will rest on arches and will be two stories in height, surmounted by a cupola, and will have accommodations for four hundred pupils. The basement will be used as a playroon during wet weather, and will contain spartment for the Janitor, wash rooms, &c. On the first floor will be six class rooms, the Principal's office, and rooms for the necessary apparatus. The second oor will also contain class rooms, apariments for the teachers, and a large assembly hall, 55 by 42.

The stairways to the building will all be on the exterior, leaving the floors clear. Every care has been taken to combine all the modern improve-ments of light and ventilation, and when completed the school house will not only be a model but an ornament to the city. It is expected that it will be ready for occupation by the first of November. The Rev. F. J. Cardoza, at present the Principal of the Colored School at the Military Hall, will be the Principal.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE LOSS OF THE THOONER BERGEN.-We clip from the Baltimor Gazette the following particulare of the burning of the schooner Bergen, from this port for Boston: "The schooner Bergen, Captain Thouss Par pooner Bergen, Captain THOMAS PAR sons, of this port, was destroyed by fire about seventy-five miles northeast of Cape Honry, or the 6th instant. She sailed from Charleston, the 6th instant. She sailed from Charleston, So. Ca., on the afternoon of the 1st instant for Boston, with a cargo of old iron, rags, cotton, rosin, and spirits of turpentine. The weather was very favorable at the time, and a quick and pleasant passage was anticipated by Captain Parsons, who had his family on board. Everything went on finely until about 6 o'clock on the ovening of the 6th instant, the vessel making about eight knots we hour, when one of the size. about eight knots per hour, when one of the crew reported to the Captain that smoke was issuing from the forward batchers. from the forward hatchway. Captain P., with the first mate, immediately removed the batch, when he discovered that there was fire in the held, and ling ble crew at once began to throw in water with the hope of extinguishing the fire, but it steadily progressed. The wife and daughter of Captain P. then lent their aid, and did good service in passing water from the side of the vessel to the hold. The smoke continued to thicken so that no one could go into the hold, and the heat and smoke became so great that it was soon found that all the efforts to extinguish the fire were futile. It was then determined to get the boat ready so that those on board could leave the vessel as soon as the necessity to do so demanded it. It was feared an explosion of the turpentine might take place, and all hands got into the boat, which dropped astern of the burning vessel. The sky was then overcast and the se auddenly rose under a gentle breeze, which soon blow a hurricane. In the hurry to provide for the safe debarkation of the passengers and crew from the vessel while the hurricane was coming, no clothing, instruments, or charts were secured, bu the boat was cut loose with nine persons on board ing two ladies, without provisions, and in an open boat on the ocean. The boat was leaky, and it required the entire labor of one of the crew to keep her free. About half-past seven o'clock the rain began to fall, and the wind blow in squalls, and the glare from the burning vesse but a short distance off, was appaling. About half-past eight o'clock the light suddenly disappeared and it is supposed the vessel went down at that time. About half-past nine o'clock the red light of a vessel to the southward was seen aping, and every exertion was made to ge near enough to attract attention. A light was se on the boat, but it was not discovered by the pass-ing vessel, which was soon out of sight. About four o'clock on Sunday morning the weather moderated, but not a sail was in sight. The head of the boat was turned toward the land, and after four hours more of suspense a sail was discovere to the northwest, and at ten o'clock the schoole

To THE PUBLIC .- We direct the attention of the public, but particularly of the pedestrians, to the advert isement of Messrs. D. O'NELL & Sons in another column. At the present time, when the scarcity of greenbacks is fost by every one, it is alcasant to know that a good understanding can be precured for a reasonable outlay. Messrs. O'NEILL & Sons have every variety of shoes and boots in their establishment, and are propared to answer all demands, whether from the fair sex or from the lords of creation. A visit will convince the doubters, and they will at once invest their spare change in a substantial pair of the best.

DEATH OF Ms. M. TRACY .- We regret to announce the death of Mr. MAURICE TRACK, late fere-man of this paper. Mr. T. was a native of New York, and came to this city when quite a young man. He was for many years before the war, foreman of the Charleston Mercury. During the war he superintended the large publishing establishment of Mesers. Evans & Cogswell, in Calumbia, and was identified with the News from th date of its establishment in August, 1865. Mr. Thace was a good printer, thoroughly conversant with all the requirements of his art; and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all with whom he came

His health had been gradually failing for time, and during the past four or five months he had been confined to his bed with dropay, which terminated fatally, notwithstanding all that scientific skill, or the watchful care and tender hand of aff,ction could do. He was only forty-seven years of age at the time of his death, and leaves a wife and one child to mourn his less. Mr. Thacy was widely known among printers every where, and his death will be sincerely regretted whore, and his death will be sinceredy regretted not only within the circle of the typographic fraternity, but by all the numerous friends he made along the journey of lefe. His funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this morning, as will be draft of water of the bark Annie Kimball, Captain Lincoln, from Newport, England, shows that sho is deeper by several inches than previously stated, and that her actual depth in the water is 18 feet 9 inches, or near 19 feet. Captain Lincoln states that the Kimball came over the bar with ease, and would have been able to have entered the channel if she had drawn several additional inches. This announcement is of the greatest importance to hipping masters, both here and elsewhere, for it has been generally considered that it was impossi-ble for any but vessels of a light draft to enter the harbor. There are few scaperts that present more advantages than Charleston, as the bay is com-pletely land-'ecked, and once over the bar, any lepth of water can be obtained. The passage of the Kimbali is an epoch in our commercial history the Kimbali is an epoch in our commercial history that we trust will not be neglected, but will arge our merchants to improve the advantages of na-ture, and by deepening the channel render the harwar a dredging machine was owned in this city made and patented by a Charleston mechanic, and it was found to be extremely serviceable in deepening the channel and in removing the obstr tions on the bar formed by the shifting sands. This niachine was destroyed during the war, but it could be easily reproduced, and would prove valuable auxiliary to our m valuable auxiliary to our merchants in bringing the commerce of the world to this port.

Maxon's Count .- Three colored Leanders, who war cosaving their swimming powers in the Market Dock, found to their sorrow, that the feat was impossible, for they were pounced upon by the police and in default of $2 fine, was looked up for two days. When they are released they will be sadder but wiser boys, and will remember that as the Black Crook is not on exhibition, the publig have no penchant for bare logs.

better than some plain people, stationed himself near the Band on the Battery and obstructed the passage way. He was warned and advised to leave, but persisted in his conduct, standing on the Platform of the Civil Rights Bill and defying the world. A night in the Calaboose and a fine of $5 convinced him of the error of his ways and he will "go no more a reaming by the sweet silver light of the moon."

managed, in spite of Order No. 32, to meisten his disphragm with the essence of rye which, to a man of his abstemious character, proved a great shock to his system, and he had laid down to recover when accosted by the police. Becoming angry at being roused from his elumbers in so peremptory manner, he rushed at his termenters and dealt them several blows in the vicinity of their bread baskets. Not liking this manœuvre, they turned the tables and carried the beligerent to a more secluded spot, where he compromised the matter by the payment of $10.

The classic shades of Berresford street were disturbed by the vicious conduct of two men who chose that locality to exhibit the many art. The sound of the blows brought in the police, who kindly consented to hold the sponge and act as umpires, and the noble pair were condemned to forfeit $5 each for a foul play.

I have always reconsistended the Faiser Polygrade Lead Pencils as the only pencils fitted for both ornamental and mathematical drawing; but, after a thorough trial of the American Lead Pencil, Company, New York, I find them superior to any pencil in use, even to the Fabor or the old English Cumberland Lead Pencil, being a superior pencil for sketching, ornamental and mechanical drawing, and all the ordinary uses of a lead pencil.

These pencils are very finely graded and have a very smooth lead even the solicat pencils hold the point well;
they are all that can be desired in a pencil. It gives me great pleasure to be able to assure Americans that they will no longer be compelled to depend upon Germany or
